

Emerson & Cuming Microwave Products N.V.
The Anechoic Chamber division has been purchased by Albatross Projects GmbH.

Westerlo, March 31, 2010 - Albatross Projects GmbH purchased the Business Unit Anechoic Chambers from Emerson&Cuming Microwave Products NV (E&C MP). The take over occurred through an Asset Deal. The location of the new company E&C Anechoic Chambers NV (E&C AC) remains the same as before in Westerlo, Belgium.

The technical know-how, patents and the equipment are included in the takeover. The well known, skilled and experienced employees have joined the New Company, so that your contact partners remain unchanged. This assures our customer the continuity of the business line and that only the owner has changed. The business fundamentals of our activities continue in assuring the operative and strategic competence seen in the past. This meaning, 'Business As Usual'!

The change will not have consequences on the way business is done. Both companies will now fully focus on its own specific business line, ensuring the further delivery of high-quality products and competent services. 'Always on your wavelength' will stay the motto of both companies.

Emerson & Cuming Microwave Products will continue to be your global source for interference control solutions.
